A Committee on Public Accounts is a necessary part of the machinery required for working the Reform system of finance. The control exercised by the Legislative Council at the stage when the budget is passed has only the effect of determining the objects on which Government may be spent and the amount that can be spent on each object. The extent to which the wishes of the Council, as expressed by the demands sanctioned, are actually complied with, is a matter which should receive the attention of the same body. This is provided for by requiring the Auditor General to prepare the Audit and Appropriation Committee of the Council to scrutinise the report and bring to the notice of the Council all deviations from its intentions.

Public Accounts Committees in other India have been constituted under rules framed (33) under Section 47 of the Govt of India Act. There does not seem to be a P. A. Committee in Travancore

Submitted to His Highness.

His Highness has already been graciously pleased to approve of Council resolution [illegible] the 1st September 1923 regarding the formation [illegible] ittee on Finance and Taxation. This Committee i[illegible] f the Representative Assembly and the Legislati[illegible] nction is to advise Government on the Budget [illegible] al policy.

The Reforms Committee recommended on page 140 (2) (a) that a committee of the Legislative Council on Public Accounts -- should be formed to deal with the audit and the appropriation reports of Government.

This recommendation was considered by the Council who were of opinion that as the Standing Committee on Finance and Taxation was an advisory committee of both Houses, it was necessary to have a Committee of the Legislative Council, as in British India, to ensure that the direction of the Legislative Council in regard to the appropriation of public funds had been adhered to. The Financial Secretary who was consulted in the matter has also expressed a similar view.

I am of opinion that the Legislative Council which, when -- passing the budget, determines the objects on which Government -- money may be spent and the amount that can be spent on each object, should be in a position to know the extent to which its wishes have actually been complied with. This will be possible if a committee of the council is empowered to examine the audit and appropriation reports of the Government and bring to the notice of the Council all cases in which the Government have departed from the intentions of the council as expressed in their vote on demands.

In these circumstances, I recommend that His Highness may be graciously pleased to approve of the decision of the Council th a committee on Public Accounts may be formed in connection with the Legislative Council.
